News Reporting from Ukraine

Television is an essential and trusted source of national and international news for Europeans. Whenever news breaks, TV correspondents are there on the spot to bring you the story. So how do journalists get the stories to the viewers? TV correspondents from different European broadcasters will discuss the operational issues and challenges they have faced when reporting from the conflict in Ukraine.

Speakers

James Mates, ITV (UK)
Nikolai Doinov, Nova TV (Bulgaria)
Dirk Emmerich, RTL (Germany)
Andrew Wilson, Sky News (UK)

Moderator

Méabh Mc Mahon, EU correspondent

Hosted by

Charles Tannock,
Member of the European Parliament
