Objective

This seminar will explore the legal challenges faced by practitioners when addressing complaints about online hate speech and provide a forum for discussion of possible solutions.

Who should attend?

Lawyers in private practice, in-house counsel, judges, prosecutors, legal staff of national administrations, international organisations and NGOs.

You will learn...

- How to assess and interpret freedom of expression online?
- What are the permissible limitations to the freedom of expression in times of emergency (COVID-19)?
- What are the key challenges for addressing hate speech?
- How is the European Commission's agenda impacting illegal online content moderation?
- How should recent CJEU and ECtHR rulings on the freedom of expression be applied in practice in cases of online hate speech?
- How to regulate hate crime effectively?
- What kind of role and responsibilities should be given to online platforms with respect to human rights?
- How to address gender-related hate speech?
- How to protect and support victims of hate speech?

Interactive online seminar

The seminar will be hosted on ERA's own online training platform. You will be able to interact immediately and directly with our top-quality speakers and other participants. We will make the most of the technical tools available to deliver an intensive, interactive training experience. As the platform is hosted on our own server, the highest security settings will be applied to ensure that you can participate safely in a high-quality online training environment.
